

Contact:
Elizabeth Wagner
publicity@worldweaverpress.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE, PLEASE

RED MOON ROMANCE OPENS TO SUBMISSIONS JANUARY 1, 2015

Alpena, MI (December 29, 2014) – Red Moon Romance (Eileen Wiedbrauk, Editor-in-Chief), the new imprint of World Weaver Press, will be open to unsolicited queries for novels, novellas, serialized fiction, and single author collections from January 1 – January 31, 2015.

With the beginning of 2015 and this open submissions period, Red Moon Romance also welcomes three new assistant editors to the team: Laura Harvey, Trysh Thompson, and Cori Vidae. You can read about the many different kinds of romances they're hoping to find at: <http://www.redmoonromance.com/meet-the-editors>.

For full submission guidelines and details, visit: <http://www.redmoonromance.com/submit>.

Laura Harvey is an editor, writer, bibliophile, horsewoman, historian, teacher, debate coach, nerd, DIY junkie, and occasional rescuer of kittens. She holds a BA, MA, and is ABD, making her an exceptional asset in Trivial Pursuit. She loves reading so much that all of her handbags share one crucial ability: fitting a standard paperback or Kindle. She lives in northern California with a menagerie of beasts (dogs, cats, horses, and family members).

Trysh Thompson is a technical writer by day and by night, she's a superhero who goes by the name "Mom." In the past, she was a journalist and a movie critic for a small paper (yes, Virginia, they do still exist). For fun, she watches anything with Gordon Ramsay, writes, reads, and tries desperately to sing (alas, the tone-deaf fairy visited her early in life). A die-hard Kentucky Wildcats basketball fan, careful what you say around her in March.

From cover model to author, Cori Vidae has performed many roles in the creation of erotic titles but this is her first time wearing an editor hat for this genre. Be gentle with her. Or don't. That can be fun too. corividiae.com

Red Moon believes in sexy romance. We believe reading should be fun. We believe that at their core, romances are relationship stories, and that erotic romances are relationship stories with orgasms in them, not stories about orgasms. We believe our readers deserve whatever fiction incites their passions. We believe that a woman should never be judged or shamed for what she reads. We believe in giving a woman what she wants. Hot romance, it's what we do.

World Weaver Press is a publisher of fantasy, paranormal, and science fiction, dedicated to producing quality works. We believe in great storytelling.

#

redmoonromance.com
@RedMoonRomance

worldweaverpress.com
@WorldWeaver_wwp